REMEMBERING ONE’S ROOTS

Ahiara Mbaise, NIGERIA

American Global Rescue (a.k.a. Ahiara Development Union USA, Inc.) demonstrates the principle of remembering one's roots. Founded by a group of Nigerian immigrants in 1990, the Houston-based charity has spent the past 26+ years serving the poor of their native communities in and around the area of Ahiara Mbaise, Nigeria. With the goals of feeding, clothing and providing healthcare to the less fortunate and empowering others via education, they are currently working to build and supply a children's hospital as well as a technical school and agricultural training center.

Globus Relief is actively involved in supporting these aims, having sent three loads of medical supplies to AGR over the past several months. As the members of AGR recognize, remembering one's roots is essential to those that come after blossoming in the future.
