We look back on 2016 with gratitude and amazement – at the generosity of our donors, the dedication of our partners, and the diligence of our employees. Because of the efforts of these and many others, we were able to fulfill our mission to improve the delivery of healthcare worldwide. In particular, in 2016 Globus Relief:

- Partnered with over 220 charity partners worldwide
- Provided aid in 59 countries, from Afghanistan to Zimbabwe
- Shipped the equivalent of 64 containers to hundreds of destinations
- Filled more than 1,230 requests for medical & dental humanitarian aid
- Distributed over $30 million in supplies, instruments & equipment

Donations were employed to back a full array of humanitarian programs (see list at right), from suppling clinics in Kosovo, to treating war-wary refugees in Turkey, to medical missions across South America, to vision treatment in Ghana. Domestic and local programs also benefited – nursing schools, veteran programs, maternity care, community clinics, charitable dental care, homeless support services. And the list continues. Truly we are engaged in a tremendous work.

As we now look forward to 2017, we are enlivened by the opportunities to expand this work even further – to help more people, in more places, more efficiently. To accomplish this, we hope in 2017 to: (1) increase the dating on donated supplies to comply with international shipping guidance constraints (minimum of 12 month dating), (2) identify and obtain funding sources to offset inbound donation and product acquisition costs, (3) heighten internal efficiencies through process consolidation and the eventual move into a permanent, non-leased building and (4) enhance our current IT resources to decrease labor costs while elevating product accessibility and transparency.

We cannot say enough of what the support of you, our donors, partners and other stakeholders, has meant to the good Globus Relief provided in 2016 and will yet mean to accomplishing our aim of increasing that impact in the future. We look forward to collaborating with you in this great effort in 2017 and beyond.
